Hills' Warrior compost used in station improvements

Hills Waste Solutions donated a supply of Warrior compost to fill three new planters on the Westbury railway station platforms.

The launch of additional rail services between Westbury and Swindon on the Trans Wilts Railway earlier this month placed the station in the spotlight and local Councillor Horace Prickett came up with the idea to add some greenery to the platforms to make them more attractive for commuters.

Volunteers from the Hearts of Wessex Rail Partnership and the Friends of Westbury Station worked on the project to assemble the planters and then fill them with compost and shrubs.

All those involved in the project gathered at Westbury station to celebrate the work that had been achieved.
